MEMORANDUM

TO: Coastal Resources Commission

FROM: Cameron Luck

SUBJECT: Annual Review of Rules

Following the establishment of the Coastal Resources Commission (CRC) in 1974, the Commission implemented a comprehensive framework of 589 rules to regulate development across the 20 designated coastal counties of North Carolina. The subsequent rules established by the CRC were intended to safeguard fragile coastal ecosystems, promote sustainable economic development, and balance public and private interests along the shoreline. Since then, the total number of CRC rules has been reduced by roughly fifty percent today for a variety of reasons, including amending for greater clarity, repealing when deemed redundant or outdated, or replaced to address emerging coastal management challenges.

At the CRC's February 2025 meeting, Commissioner Hennessy raised a question regarding the agency's compliance with the North Carolina Administrative Procedure Act (APA), which requires agencies to conduct a review of their rules annually. Specifically, G.S. 150B-19.1(b) directs that,

Each agency subject to this Article shall conduct an annual review of its rules to identify existing rules that are unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent with the principles set forth in subsection (a) of this section. The agency shall repeal any rule identified by this review.

As outlined in the attached memorandum that was presented by Special Deputy Attorney General Mary Lucasse at the April 2025 meeting, a "periodic review" process was codified in G.S. 150B-21.3A in 2013. That statute requires agencies to review their existing rules at least once every ten years under a formal, public-facing process overseen by the Rules Review Commission (RRC). Because the periodic review process includes rule-by-rule classification and repeal or readoption through rulemaking, there was some uncertainty as to whether the periodic review (occurring every ten years) was to become the prevailing mechanism for rule maintenance, replacing the annual review requirement. Ms. Lucasse notes in her memo that in addition to the periodic review, the agency's rules frequently undergo technical changes, substantive amendments, or the creation of new rules annually.

Regardless, G.S. 150B-19.1(b) remains in effect and requires DCM to conduct an agency-level review of the commission's rules. Staff are also reviewing the rules for consistency with recent session law, clarity standards, technical accuracy. As there is no statutorily-prescribed format or reporting requirement for this annual review, it is staff's understanding that agencies have discretion in how to conduct this review. To implement this annual review, staff have developed a comprehensive master spreadsheet cataloging all rules under the commission's jurisdiction. Each rule is being individually reviewed for compliance with the statutory criteria in G.S. 150B-19.1, as well as for consistency with recently enacted session laws to identify any technical or substantive issues that may warrant revision. Staff will assess whether each rule is necessary, considering the guidance provided in G.S. 150B-19.1(a)(1) and (3), which require that rules to be both authorized by law and necessary to serve the public interest, and that they be clearly written and reasonably necessary to implement or interpret federal or state law. Any comments and/or observations gathered from staff are documented alongside the corresponding rule in the spreadsheet as a comprehensive record of concerns and recommendations to be addressed through the various rulemaking pathways available to agencies. Please review the attached draft spreadsheet. It is currently under review by staff for additional input.

While it does require staff to commit additional time and resources to a formal, annual review, it will assist in proactively managing the CRC's obligations under the periodic review process required by G.S. 150B-21.3A. As a result, the Commission will be able to approach the periodic review process with a well-informed, strategic understanding of its rulebook to reduce the need for reactive measures.

We look forward to discussing this review at your August CRC meeting.

Re: History of N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-19.1(b)

In 2010, Governor Perdue issued Executive Order (“EO”) 70 stating that “rulemaking is one of the most significant public policy actions government can take, directly affecting businesses and citizens alike [and] . . . outdated, unnecessary, or vague rules often impose unnecessary costs and burdens on local governments, small businesses, and other regulated entities.” Governor Perdue required all executive agencies to review their existing rules and submit comments through a portal to the Office of State Budget and Management (“OSBM”). Upon submission to the OSBM, any rules deemed unnecessary were compiled in a list and presented to the General Assembly. This review continued for a while with agencies submitting through the OSBM portal. In 2014, EO 70 was amended by Governor McCrory in EO 48 to delete the requirement that executive agencies review existing rules annually and submit comments to OSBM.

The General Assembly did not directly act on the rules submitted as a result of EO 70. However, in 2011 it enacted new provisions to the North Carolina Administrative Procedure Act (“APA”) including N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-19.1 which requires that,

Each agency subject to this Article shall conduct an annual review of its rules to identify existing rules that are unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent with the principles set forth in subsection (a) of this section. The agency shall repeal any rule identified by this review.

N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B- 19.1(b). Two years later in 2013, the General Assembly amended the APA to require agencies to review their existing rules using a different process. See N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-21.3A establishing the decennial Existing Rules Review. From my exchange with an individual who was employed at the Office of Administrative Hearings (“OAH”) at that time, I learned that there were discussions at the OAH and with the Rules Review Commission (“RRC”) about requesting N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-19.1(b) be repealed as it would not be needed. That has not happened. Even though 19.1(b) is still law, the necessity of conducting a formal annual review to weed out unnecessary rules appears to have been overtaken by the decennial review process.

From an informal survey, it is my opinion that the vast majority of agencies are not doing a formal annual review of their rules. I have heard of only one—the N.C. Credit Union Division— whose staff reviews their rules each January. The annual review requirement in the APA is internal within the agency (i.e., it does not include a report to the RRC or OSBM). The statutory provision does not specify the manner or process for conducting an annual review.

It is my understanding that although the CRC and its staff at the Division of Coastal Management touch the CRC's rules often, it has not been the CRC's practice to include an agenda item on an annual basis during a regularly scheduled meeting to formally review all its rules at the same time. Following this background information, DCM staff will provide information on the ongoing rule review process.

§ 150B-19.1. Requirements for agencies in the rule-making process.

(a) In developing and drafting rules for adoption in accordance with this Article, agencies shall adhere to the following principles:

- (1) An agency may adopt only rules that are expressly authorized by federal or State law and that are necessary to serve the public interest.
- (2) An agency shall seek to reduce the burden upon those persons or entities who must comply with the rule.
- (3) Rules shall be written in a clear and unambiguous manner and must be reasonably necessary to implement or interpret federal or State law.
- (4) An agency shall consider the cumulative effect of all rules adopted by the agency related to the specific purpose for which the rule is proposed. The agency shall not adopt a rule that is unnecessary or redundant.
- (5) When appropriate, rules shall be based on sound, reasonably available scientific, technical, economic, and other relevant information. Agencies shall include a reference to this information in the notice of text required by G.S. 150B-21.2(c).
- (6) Rules shall be designed to achieve the regulatory objective in a cost-effective and timely manner.

(b) Each agency subject to this Article shall conduct an annual review of its rules to identify existing rules that are unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent with the principles set forth in subsection (a) of this section. The agency shall repeal any rule identified by this review.

(c) Each agency subject to this Article shall post on its Web site, no later than the publication date of the notice of text in the North Carolina Register, all of the following:

- (1) The text of a proposed rule.
- (2) An explanation of the proposed rule and the reason for the proposed rule.
- (3) The federal certification required by subsection (g) of this section.
- (4) Instructions on how and where to submit oral or written comments on the proposed rule, including a description of the procedure by which a person can object to a proposed rule and subject the proposed rule to legislative review.
- (5) Any fiscal note that has been prepared for the proposed rule.

If an agency proposes any change to a rule or fiscal note prior to the date it proposes to adopt a rule, the agency shall publish the proposed change on its Web site as soon as practicable after the change is drafted. If an agency's staff proposes any such change to be presented to the rule-making agency, the staff shall publish the proposed change on the agency's Web site as soon as practicable after the change is drafted.

(d) Each agency shall determine whether its policies and programs overlap with the policies and programs of another agency. In the event two or more agencies' policies and programs overlap, the agencies shall coordinate the rules adopted by each agency to avoid unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent rules.

(e) Each agency shall quantify the costs and benefits to all parties of a proposed rule to the greatest extent possible. Prior to submission of a proposed rule for publication in accordance with G.S. 150B-21.2, the agency shall review the details of any fiscal note prepared in connection with the proposed rule and approve the fiscal note before submission.

(f) If the agency determines that a proposed rule will have a substantial economic impact as defined in G.S. 150B-21.4(b1), the agency shall consider at least two alternatives to the proposed rule. The alternatives may have been identified by the agency or by members of the public.

(g) Whenever an agency proposes a rule that is purported to implement a federal law, or required by or necessary for compliance with federal law, or on which the receipt of federal funds is conditioned, the agency shall:

- (1) Prepare a certification identifying the federal law requiring adoption of the proposed rule. The certification shall contain a statement setting forth the reasons why the proposed rule is required by federal law. If all or part of the proposed rule is not required by federal law or exceeds the requirements of federal law, then the certification shall state the reasons for that opinion.
- (2) Post the certification on the agency Web site in accordance with subsection (c) of this section.
- (3) Maintain a copy of the federal law and provide to the Office of State Budget and Management the citation to the federal law requiring or pertaining to the proposed rule.

(h) Repealed by Session Laws 2014-120, s. 6(a), effective September 18, 2014, and applicable to proposed rules published on or after that date. (2011-398, s. 2; 2012-187, s. 3; 2013-143, s. 1.1; 2014-120, s. 6(a).)

- i. Each agency head will be held accountable for ensuring that the policies and objectives in this Executive Order are put into effect and that information requested in connection with the requirements of this Executive Order is provided on a timely basis.

Section 3. Review of Existing Rules

A Rules Modification and Improvement Program (“RMIP”) shall be established to annually evaluate, reform, expand, or, where necessary, repeal existing rules and associated requirements in order to promote the goals of this Executive Order. The Office of State Budget and Management (“OSBM”) shall coordinate and oversee the RMIP. OSBM shall consult with experts, stakeholders and other relevant parties in implementing the RMIP.

- 1. The RMIP shall accomplish the following within the first 30 days after publication of this Executive Order:
 - a. Invite comment on whether any existing rules, implementation processes and associated requirements are unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent with the goals of this Executive Order. Comments may include modifying, expanding, or rescinding existing rule programs or the rule review and publication process.
 - b. Direct agencies to undertake an internal review to identify existing rules and associated requirements that are unnecessary, unduly burdensome, or inconsistent with the goals of this Executive Order.
- 2. The RMIP shall continue to invite and consider comment on rule reforms beyond the first 30 days after publication of this Executive Order. Comments received during the first 30 days will inform the first annual report required by paragraph 8 of this section, while comments received after the first 30 days will inform future reports.

3. The State Chief Information Officer shall ensure that there is a single web portal for receiving public comments and tracking agency progress on any resulting rule reform actions.
4. OSBM shall assemble and evaluate the reform suggestions resulting from the public comment process and internal agency reviews.
5. Agencies, as requested by OSBM, shall review the merits of the reform suggestions.
6. Agencies shall prepare a report, in a form designated by OSBM, on whether reform suggestions have potential merit and justify further action. The report shall be submitted to OSBM by January 31 each year.
7. OSBM shall make final determinations on which reform suggestions have potential merit and justify further action. OSBM shall also consider and propose recommended improvements to the rule process to the Governor, including any legislation that may be necessary to achieve reforms.
8. OSBM shall publish by April 30 every year an annual report summarizing all reform comments and any resulting actions taken or planned.
9. OSBM shall receive assistance, services, or data from any state agency as it determines is reasonably necessary to carry out the purposes of this Executive Order.
10. The State CIO shall coordinate and consolidate systems across state government required to comply with existing rules at the direction of OSBM.

Section 4. Review of New Rules

Rule improvement efforts shall extend beyond an evaluation of existing rules to the current process used to promulgate new rules. Given the significant impact of rules, rule decisions shall be informed by a careful assessment of the likely consequences of rule action.

1. During OSBM's review and approval process for fiscal notes and rule analysis under N.C. Gen. Stat. §150B-21.4, OSBM shall ensure agencies adhere to the principles outlined in Section 2 of this Executive Order.
2. For significant rules, agency heads shall certify completion of a fiscal note and rule analysis and submit them to OSBM for review under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-21.4 and other related statutes, at least 60 days prior to rule publication.
3. In order that an independent analysis can be made, state agencies shall not request OSBM to prepare a fiscal note and rule analysis under N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-21.4(b1) until the agency, working with OSBM, has exhausted all resources, internal and external, to otherwise prepare the required analysis.

4. OSBM, as part of the Office of the Governor, shall conduct the preliminary review in N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-21.26 on behalf of the Governor.
5. Consistent with N.C. Gen. Stat. § 150B-21.26, agencies shall submit the required rule information to OSBM at least 60 days prior to rule publication for rules that impact local governments.

Section 5. Effect and Duration

This Executive Order is effective immediately and shall remain in effect until rescinded. It supersedes and replaces all other executive orders on this subject.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and affixed the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina at the Capitol in the City of Raleigh, this twenty-first day of October in the year of our Lord two thousand and ten and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and thirty-fifth.
